

Mason Preparatory School

Charleston, South Carolina

Client: Mason Preparatory School

Completion: 2014

Mason Preparatory School is a private combined elementary and middle school of approximately 350 students. Goff•D'Antonio Associates was retained initially to perform a feasibility study to look at relocating the school or to expand and renovate the existing school to address the needs of adding Kindergarten classrooms and bringing the academic spaces to current standards for classroom sizes. This resulted in a master plan to add a new lower school wing of eight classrooms, upgrade current facilities by combining rooms to upgrade the size of existing classrooms, create a new main entry and lobby, add a new student activities center to be used for physical education, team sports and assembly along with additional classrooms. Phase I, the Lower School building, will start construction in early 2014.
